RESEARCH AND INNOVATION
VIRGINIA TECH.

Research development in the Office of Research and Innovation

- The Office of Research and Innovation aims to ensure full-spectrum research development for the entire university research enterprise
- The objective is to make each phase of developing the research portfolio more efficient and effective - from the earliest stages of relationships with potential sponsors to awards being made

Advancing research development across multiple timelines

respond

- Funding Institutional - customizable and searchable database of funding organizations and solicitations
- Proposal development support - in many colleges and departments
- VT-FAST
- Example successful proposals - colleagues and ADRs
- Proposal Development Institute
- NSF CAREER Award workshop
- Research Development Seminar Series (video archive)
- Limited Submissions
- Red Team review
- Cost-sharing and institutional commitment

Virginia Tech Institutes

Investment

- Fralin Life Sciences Institute (FLSI)
- Institute for Creativity, Arts, and Design (ICAT)
- Institute for Critical Technology and Applied Science (ICTAS)
- Institute for Society, Culture, and Environment (ISCE)

Thematic

- Fralin Biomedical Research Institute (FBRI)
- National Security Institute (NSI)
- Virginia Tech Transportation Institute (VTTI)

Sponsor and Corporate Engagement

- Office of Strategic Research Alliances

Contacts and engagement with federal agencies, foundations, companies, and other academic institutions

Steve McKnight and Jon Porter

Corporate Partnerships, Intellectual Property, Start-Up Company Formation

Brandy Salmon and Brad Fravel

inform

- Research Development Seminar Series and new Research Development webpages
- Annual assessments of federal research budgets and spending (overall, agency, program, and award-level trends)
- Analyses and dissemination of agency S&T priorities and execution strategies
- Annual analysis of HERD, Federal Survey on Research, etc. to inform comparative standing
- Understanding the persona of successful proposers

inform

An aerial view of a white and orange drone flying over a green field. In the background, there are several farm buildings, including a large barn and a smaller structure, surrounded by rolling green hills under a cloudy sky.

- Promote awareness of Virginia Tech research interests, priorities and talent
- Participate in national-level thematic workshops
- Convene broader community on priority research areas
- Organize faculty visits to research agencies and program managers
- Host agency visits to Virginia Tech

shape

- Increase awareness among sponsors of Virginia Tech research interests, strengths and capabilities
- Align Virginia Tech capabilities with research interests in mission-driven agencies
- Analyze awardees for current programs to benchmark ourselves against successful teams
- Convene workshops or bilateral meetings with sponsors around emerging research topics
- Participate in agenda-setting activities by agencies, think-tanks, professional societies, NASEM

create

A photograph of two women in a meeting. The woman on the left has short reddish-brown hair and is wearing a purple and black patterned shirt. The woman on the right has blonde hair, wears glasses, and a dark plaid shirt. They are both looking towards a whiteboard on the right side of the frame. The whiteboard has some faint, illegible handwriting and a small diagram. The word 'create' is overlaid in large white letters on the top left of the image.

- Brainstorm around big ideas that align with our strengths and capabilities
- Drive interest in new and emerging research areas to stimulate research investment
- Actively participate in the establishment of national-level research agendas
- Advocate development of new research programs at sponsors and agencies
- Build collaborative alliances to generate interest and momentum for new and emerging research

How Can the OSP Pre-Award Team Help You?

At the Proposal Stage

- Reviews the Request for Proposal (RFP)
- Creates the budget in accordance with PI specifications
- Assists PI in completing sponsor forms
- Ensures appropriate reviews have taken place -COI, Export Control, Contractual
- Prepares cover letter/Reps-Certs/Sub forms
- Obtains all required signatures on proposal documents
- Reviews proposal for compliance with RFP
- Submits proposal to sponsor OR provides approval for PI to submit

After Submission

- Works with faculty to correct or resolve any issues in the proposal package
- Submits updates or revisions to the original proposal
- Coordinates answers to sponsor regarding proposals
- Files all after-submission communication
- Transmits award documents to Contracts team
- Answers questions from Contracts/Post-award

When should you initiate your proposal in Summit? As soon as possible.

- As soon as you find an opportunity you want to apply to, initiate the proposal in Summit.

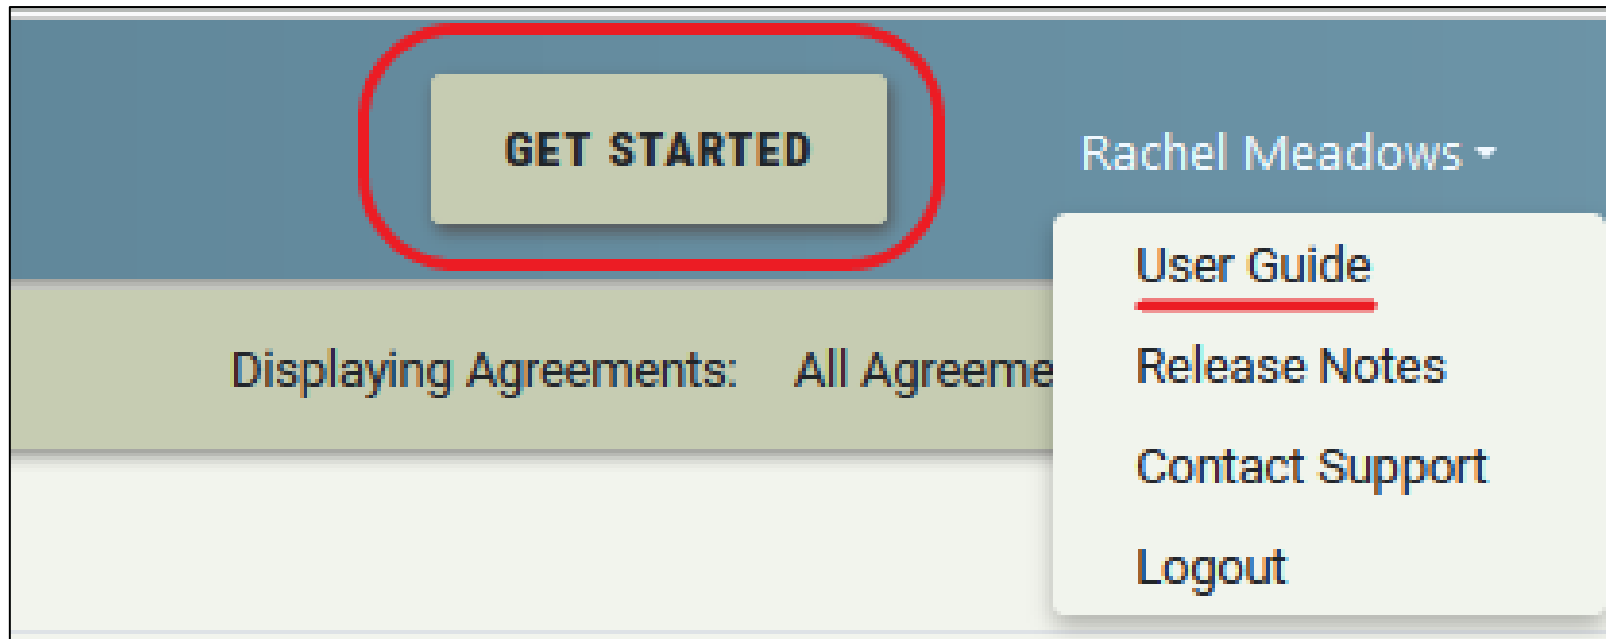

<https://summit.cloud.vt.edu/>

- This does the following:
 - Places your proposal on the Pre-Award calendar
 - Puts your proposal in your Pre-Award Associate's queue
 - Allows us to do a RFP review
 - Allows us to get Contracts get involved if needed
 - Lets us review to see if it is a Limited Submission opportunity
- Please contact the following with any questions:
 - Shannell Ball, Associate Director of Pre-Award, shannell@vt.edu or 540-231-5578
 - Lauren Magruder, Director of Pre-Award, Lmagrude@vt.edu or 540-231-8054

Office of Sponsored Programs - Contracts and Agreements

- The Contracts Team reviews and executes many types of research-related contracts and agreements. Contracts and agreements are initiated in the following ways:
 - Emailing ospcontracts@vt.edu or ospawards@vt.edu with sponsor acceptance of award for proposed funded agreements.
 - Summit Agreements for most other agreement types.
 - Refer to the Contracts and Agreements page for additional guidance.

Office of Sponsored Programs - Summit Agreements

VIRGINIA TECH

Technology Commercialization

OVPRI Resources

Mark Mondry

Director, LAUNCH

Mark's extensive engineering, legal, and executive business experience shares a common theme of creating, developing, and commercializing new technologies. As a patent attorney in Silicon Valley and Washington DC, he helped create and grow extensive global patent portfolios, managed dozens of patent litigations, and drafted and negotiated hundreds of licensing and transactional contracts spanning the entire innovation spectrum. As an executive in the medical devices industry, he held leadership positions in operations, business development, and new product development in multi-national Fortune 100 companies and founded or helped build several startups and spinouts, including growing a young medical device startup to a successful IPO.

MEET YOUR INSTRUCTORS

Grant Brewer

Executive Director, LICENSE

With two decades of experience in commercialization of highly technical business opportunities, Grant provides the practical experience one gains through doing things the wrong way and learning things the hard way. Unfortunately for Virginia Tech, Grant has been learning this way for almost 10 years in his current role.

Grant's professional experiences range from bench-top research assessment to directing FDA approved pharmaceutical manufacturing. He has been involved in multiple start-up companies, many of which achieved success through strong exits and sales revenues.

1.0 Purpose

Publicly (state) supported universities have the multiple missions of teaching, research, support of the public interest and fostering of economic development of the area/state in which they are located.

Scholarly activities in a University setting create Intellectual Properties (IPs). IPs include research papers, books, software programs, new inventions, journal articles, etc.

With regard to research data, results, and related materials for projects conducted at the university, under the auspices of the university, or with university resources, please refer to Policy 13015, "Ownership and Control of Research Results."

The University's mission includes dissemination of IPs in the most efficient and effective manner possible. The identification and optimization of opportunities for the industrial/commercial utilization of some IPs is also part of this mission, as is the protection of the ownership rights of both the individuals and the University.

While many IPs are best disseminated by publication and placing in the public domain, there are a significant number that are most effectively handled by protection under the IP laws (i.e., patenting and copyright) and licensing (or other transfer) to private sector entities, with attendant financial considerations.

This Policy is designed to establish the rationale and the mechanisms to:

1. Establish ownership criteria and resolve ownership questions if such arise.
2. Define the responsibilities, rights and privileges of those involved.
3. Develop basic guidelines for the administration of the IP Policy.

This Policy applies to all employees, students, and all other persons or entities using University resources pursuant to this policy.

2.0 Policy

2.1 Organization

The Intellectual Properties Committee (IPC) membership shall be as stated in the By-Laws of University Council.

The invention disclosure process

- + Not “just housekeeping” or mandatory paperwork (although it is required by law);
- + Initiates the process for ultimately protecting your intellectual property.
- + Also available through online disclosure portal

Summary

Virginia Tech researcher sheds light on when and how law enforcement traffic stops escalate, as well as their psychological impact on Black men.

'Owned' Media

The screenshot shows the top of a news article on the Virginia Tech website. The header includes the Virginia Tech logo and the word "NEWS" in a red box. Below the header, there is a "RESEARCH" tag and the article title "Vehicle stop study illuminates importance of officer's first words". The author is listed as "By Travis Williams" and the date is "29 MAY 2023". It also indicates a "6 minute read" and includes social media sharing icons for Facebook, Twitter, and LinkedIn.

First impressions matter, even during vehicle stops.

New research by @VT_CS assistant professor Eugenia Rho reveals how the initial words spoken by law enforcement officers to Black drivers can indicate the outcome of the stop.
